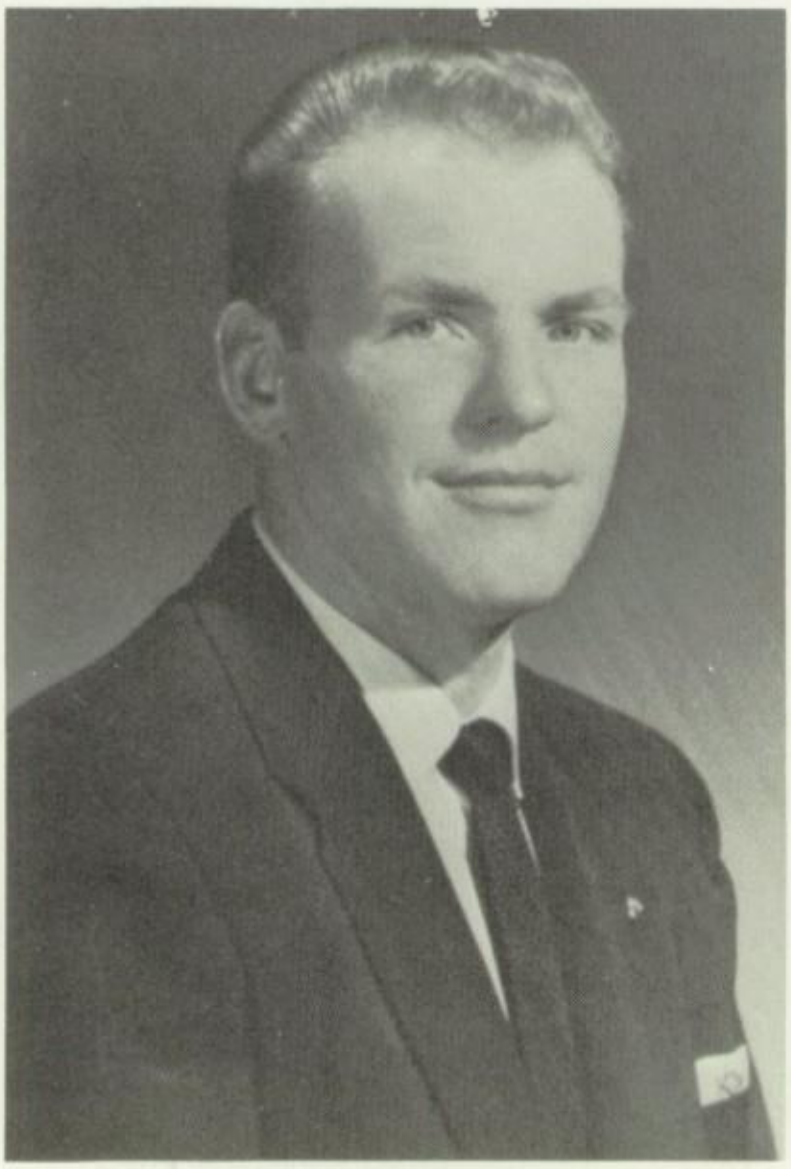
OH, you don't say!

After many long hours of tedious work, the 1963 yearbook has been completed. Through our labors we have tried to capture the highlights of one complete year, showing its happy moments as well as its sad ones. The Annual Staff, members of the senior class, have given faithfully their time and effort to edit a picture record which will bring back fond memories when leafing through its pages. In so doing, these memories may be kept and treasured for all the years to come. We, the staff, feel that our time has been well spent; the results, we hope, will not only be pleasant; but also a credit to our school and community.

FIRST ROW: Bill Metz, Martin McNitt, Mary Ann Carpenter, Mr. Fisher. SECOND ROW: Jake Leck, Lynn Drake, Judy Scott, Margot Keller, Mary Ann Pena, Tom Lowry.

Dedication



As a small token of appreciation we, the class of 1963, would like to present the "Sarcon" to you, Mr. Keith Fisher, for your tireless service to Sargent Schools. You have faithfully donated your time, energy, experience, and knowledge to those whom you have taught. Your friendly smile and pleasant words will be remembered.

Thanks again.

Planning For

Complete and abreast of the times, Sargent's fiveman school board worked diligently to present both the gaining of knowledge and the adjustment to widening horizons as exciting challenges to a large and varied student body. They worked on the humanistic theory that a modern school presents a better and a new "frontier" that must be explored and conquered just as our forefathers viewed the often unfathomable west.

Looking over the day's schedule!

Faculty

Strives To Make

It is not usually the strength of the student body, the power of the administration, or the power of the athletic department that is the final criteria by which any scholastic institutions is judged, for most persons, when considering the worth of a school, generally refer to a school as being "good" or "bad" depending upon the relative merit and the strength of the faculty.

Sargent School has proven exceptionally fortunate in this respect, for our school, over a long period of time, has had one of the best faculties in the valley. The overall picture of their dedication to what they believed in-gaining of knowledge by motivation for learning was sometimes a dreary one, sometimes a bright one, depending on the response of those in their classes.

Band Council

Sound of Music

Long hours of practice as a marching band at fall events built the confidence and spirit of the Farmer's Band. These long hours were not spent in vain, for they aided the band in preparing for the annual Boulder Band Day, which was held in Boulder, during Oct.

The Feast of Carols was made more meaningful when the concert band reflected the spirit of Christmas in several selections. Then spring found them polishing up for the spring concert and contest. It was at the spring concert that the band members so proudly showed off their new uniforms, which they were able to obtain with the help of the PTA.

Under the leadership of Calvin Doty, the 1962-63 band had a very successful year. His enthusiasm inspired both practice and concert performances and gave added vigor to the "Sound of Music," on the Farmer Stage.

Homecoming 1963

The crowd was hushed at halftime as the glowing Homecoming royalty of 1963 approached the grandstand in a shiny convertible. The girls were radiant in suits which were appropriate for the chilly weather.

Then came the moment all had been waiting for, the crowning of the queen. Only the coach knew who she was. He handed the crown to one of the captains and told him to present it to Linda Drake. Her attendants were Peggy Wilcox and Barbara LaRue.

Sargent Farmers gridiron team was a thrilling mixture of volatile breakaways and cliff hanging finishes.

The Farmers who converted from eleven to eight man football this season, showed evidence of a good ball club from the opening game when they defeated the Maulers of Manassa who ranked as one of the top teams. With victories over Manassa, Sanford, Moffat, Sangre De Cristo, Fairplay, and Capulin, Sargent placed second in the league.

The Farmers only defeats were suffered at the hands of Saguache and Le Veta.

Singing the school song and propelling the chant of "Farmers Almighty" high into the rafters and across the brightly lighted field, peppy Farmer girls added color and volume to all athletic events. They also backed school spirit by prompting pep assemblies where Farmer spirit was lifted in an even, fast tempo. The pep club's support of the team at district wrestling and district basketball reached a new high. However, the crowning touch to the Farmer's pep was added when the students prompted the basketball squad to win district and earn the right to go to State. Their many efforts were material evidence of orderly enthusiasm, school spirit, and more than anything---FARMER PEP.

Improving health, bettering sportsmanship and enjoying new sports experiences were headliners in the well planned programs of this vital department. Active indoor sports such as volleyball, cage ball, and girl's basketball were combined with daily exercises to music. Weather permitting, the girls moved outside in the winter months for ice skating and in the summer months for soccer, softball, and hockey.

Bowling and swimming parties added to the fun and entertainment of the G. A. A. girls. The girls adapted themselves to situations in which they accepted leadership responsibilities and routine instruction in gymnastics and sports.

The Student Council has started many programs this year. One was the Student of the Month prog·am where students are recognized for tneir efforts and leadership.

The school newspaper, "The Harvester", has helped the English Department by printing some of the paragraphs from the different classes. They also have done a fine job of letting everyone know what the grade school and high school have been doing.

MISS PAULA PRENTICE

This year the basketball team proudly chose Paula Prentice as their Queen, which indeed was an excellent choice. Paula who has attended Sargent for 12 years has been a active student, not only academically but also in many school activities.

We want to wish her the best in her future endeavors.

Wrestling Queen

MISS LINDA GUMPER

The wrestling team made a wise choice this year in chosing Linda Gumper as their queen. Linda, who is a sophomore, possesses many qualities of royalty--poise, charm beauty, and a wholesome personality to name a few.

With two more years of school left, Linda will surely receive other awards and honors just as deserving.

Members of the senior class displayed their fine acting talent on March 29, when they presented the annual Senior Play.

The play was entitled "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick," which was a comedy showing how an old farmer, Aaron Slick, got ahead of the city slickers. The city folds tried to swindle some oil from the farmers, but ended up swindling themselves.

The play was a great success, as the capacity crowd was in an uproar throughout the entire production.

CHOIR DIRECTOR
Mr. Calvin Doty

Robed in black with gold dickies the Sargent Choir under the direction of Mr. Calvin Doty, has completed another successful season. The choir is composed of Senior High School students who are interested in singing. This year one of the outstanding performances was the Christmas Concert.

The Quartet, Octet, Dectet and the Madrigals each made several appearances for the Feast of Carols and the Annual Polio Extravaganza.

The Annual Spring Music Contest was held in Monte Vista on April 26, 1963. The Sargent Choir received a 2 plus.

This year the National Honor Society reached a new high when they initiated 12 new members at a very impressive ceremony at the high school auditorium with the student body, parents, and friends attending. The stage was set when the organist, Mr. Frank Pepper started the processional and the members marched. The 12 members of the student body were tapped and then initiated.

Another highlight of the NHS was the banquet held April 25, 1963. NHS members and their parents were invited to a wonderful dinner served by Mrs. Smitt and her staff. The year was truly a successful one for the National Honor Society.

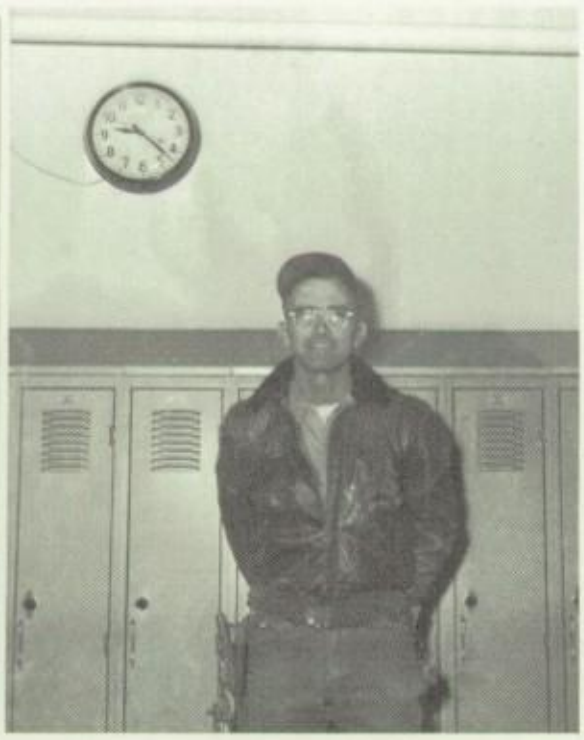
People Who Keep the School Running



Mr. Hunt — Mr. Goad
Grade School and High School Custodian

It takes more than the teachers and administration to keep the cogs of the school machinery going. The Maintenance of any school is mandatory, and Sargent is fortunate in having a great staff. They are always willing to help and give that little "extra" which adds to a friendly atmosphere on campus. Our hats are off to this group for a job well done.

Matmen. . .

Supported by five lettermen, the farmers hung up a season record of 5 wins and 6 losses. The loss of several boys through injuries caused the farmers to be short handed at some of the matches.

Coach Judkins, in his first year of coaching, took two boys to state. Qualifiers were Martin McNitt, 138-pound class; and Bernard Monter in the heavy weight division. Martin placed third in state while Bernard found the going tough and didn't place.

Prospects for next year are good with eight lettermen returning and several promising freshmen coming up.

The Sargent track squad had a fairly good year with five Seniors, three Juniors, five Sophomores and five Freshmen competing. The Farmers took second at the Sangre de Cristo Invitational and second in district. The Farmers took seven tracksters to state with Jerry McWilliams placing third in the high hurdles and fifth in the high-jump to give Sargent their three points.

The prospects for next year are very good with a young squad filling the shoes of the Seniors and several good boys coming up from Jr. High.

Tom Lowry
Don Campbell

Selected by the members of the Junior Class, king and queen, Tom Lowry and Cathy Martinez reigned over the most important social event of the year, the Prom.

The Juniors did a wonderful job of carrying out their Oriental theme, Shangrila, in the gym and in the cafeteria. In one corner of the gym was a volcano which had obviously taken very many hours of diligent work.

We would like to congratulate the Juniors on a job well done.
